Foreword

School statistics are essential for achieving the education sector targets aligned with the Government's commitments. Since 1986, the Ministry of Education has published the School Statistics series, providing policymakers, educational planners, administrators, researchers, and other stakeholders with comprehensive data to support informed decision-making. Reliable statistical information is critical for measuring progress, managing resources, and guiding strategic initiatives, thereby shaping both scientific and societal advancements.

The Ministry of Education is pleased to present School Statistics 2022/2023, compiled using data as of November 2022, representing the academic year 2022/2023. This latest edition offers a comprehensive overview of school-based data, enabling government agencies, non-governmental organizations, and private sector partners to plan and implement programmes and projects more effectively in support of the nation's educational development.

The Policy, Planning and Research Division of the Ministry of Education extends its sincere appreciation to all schools for their cooperation in providing the data required for this report. Acknowledgement is also due to the various bodies within the Ministry for their contributions throughout the preparation of this report. The Ministry further expresses its gratitude to the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) for providing population data.

It is hoped that School Statistics 2022/2023 will continue to serve as a vital reference, offering significant insights to all stakeholders engaged in the advancement of education in the Maldives.

Note: Population data are based on the 2022 Maldives Population and Housing Census. Both population and student enrollment figures in the table exclude foreign nationals and Maldivian emigrants. According to UNESCO Institute for Statistics (UIS), a Gender Parity Index (GPI) between 0.97 and 1.03 indicates gender parity. The overall GPI of 0.99 for the government-mandated grades (LKG-10) therefore reflects gender parity in enrolment.
